Personal.

Mrs. Gov. Jno. B. Weller, of California, is a guest of the Galt House. She visits Kentucky to place her son at the college of Gen. Kirby Smith at Newcastle.

Col. Robert Bolling, of Petersburg, Va., is in the city.

Perjury Case.

The case against Lucy Smith, colored, for perjury, came up yesterday evening before Justices Matlack and Clement. The prosecution in the case failing to put in evidence that Lucy had been sworn, she was discharged.

Burglary.

Last night the residence of Fred. Wells, on the Seventh-street road, near Oakland, was entered by some one who feared neither him nor the law, and a fine double-barreled silver watch was taken away. No other articles were missed, nor was any one about the house molested.

Tricked in Othello.

It will be remembered that some weeks ago, a man named Mickey, who had shot a shoemaker in Lagrange, and another named Bateman, who was charged with stealing a horse in Oldham county, were confined in jail in this city. They were sent to Lagrange yesterday, and their cases were both continued to the next term of court.

Ladies' Fair.

This evening will terminate the fair at Odd Fellows Hall, which thus far has been a wonderful success. The great feature of this evening will be the raffle for the $1,000 horse and buggy. The lady managers are confident of getting a good round price for this prize, as the tickets are only five dollars. Let everybody in the city, who has not yet attended, go to-night.

MAXWELL HOUSE.

Opening Day.

Mr. M. Kean, of the Louisville Hotel, will open the new and magnificent hotel, the Maxwell House, in Nashville, to-morrow morning, when it will be ready for the reception of guests. The Maxwell House in all its appointments, is one of the most superb hotels in the world, and Michael Kean is the very prince of hotel keepers. The new hotel opens under the most auspicious circumstances.

That Negro Drill.

The drilling of negroes night before last, on the common south of Broadway, was in preparation for a grand match drill, to come off to-day in Madison, Indiana, between a company of negroes in this city, calling themselves the Grant Guards, and a company in the city of Madison. The Grant Guards left last evening per the packet. They say they are General Ben. Runkle's soldiers, but don't know what use he has for them, only that he said he would need them, and so they "joined." But Runkle says they are not his soldiers and disclaims any connection with their organization. They are doing things on their own hook.

Colored Women in Trouble.

Rachael Burton appeared before Justice Clement and laid complaints that Millie Thompson had threatened serious injury to her, and Millie was brought into court to answer the charge. Together in the presence of the law-officer, Millie promised Rachael to let her alone and the case was dismissed. But Rachael had other and greater troubles. She had been talking about somebody in whom Wm. Williams took an interest, and he avenged the free use she made of her tongue by throwing at her a hatchet, which fortunately for her missed its mark. The court held him to bail for $250 to be, have himself towards her for at least three months.

A Hunt of Distillers.

A U. S. special agent, A. J. Harrington, arrived this morning by the mailboat from Cincinnati, having in charge a host of parties arrested by him last week, between Monday morning and Sunday evening. These parties are all farmers and each was running a still on his own premises for the manufacture of apple and peach brandy. The following are the names of the parties arrested: Dr. M. Wells, A. J. Amyx, A. B. Loveless, W. W. Phipps and Jas. Peratt, all from Morgan county; Sam'l Brown, Jr., from Magoffin county, and Barrett Porter from Elliott county. Capt. Harrington had with him a guide, and a guard of four soldiers. Brown, of Magoffin county, having heard that an officer was in that region of country, had six men with him to prevent an arrest, but Harrington said "come," and he knocked under. Mr. Loveless, of Morgan county, says that the U. S. laws have never reached that portion of the country yet; no one has ever attempted to enforce them, and consequently the whole country is full of illicit distilleries. They will be examined to-day before Commissioner Ballard. Witnesses have been summoned for the trial on the 4th of October.

Bailey's Menagerie and Circus!

The Grand Procession!

THE ACTORS AND THE ANIMALS!

A Magnificent Display!

The grand caravan belonging to Geo. F. Bailey & Co. paraded our streets this morning.

First in order came the Oriental music car. This car is very elaborately and extravagantly constructed, and contains Withers' celebrated Washington cornet band, which discoursed excellent music.

Next to the car came the riders, as follows: Mr. Sebastian Quagliani, the celebrated bare-back rider; Madame Zerlina, the renowned equestrienne; Josephine Rowland, whose feats of horsemanship have been the astonishment and wonder of every one who has ever seen her; the charming and intrepid flying trapeze performer, Senorita Sagrino; Mlle Marie Elise, premier equestrienne; Ben. Maginley, Shaksperian jester; the Denzer Brothers, graceful and finished gymnasts; James Wambold, the favorite dispenser of humor; the Arabian Brothers, thrilling mair men; George Detious, the fearless athlete; Sig. Ferranti; E. E. Libby, the Goliath of the Stadium, besides Messrs. Ogden, Royston, Allison, Hammond, Aston, Mattison, Wright, Williamson and Archer. The glittering array of riders was followed by the wagons bearing the hippopotamus, the only specimen of this almost mythical animal in the United States. Then came the wagon with the rhinoceros. This wonderful animal, it will be borne in mind, like the hippopotamus, has been spoken of in sacred history; and this circumstance, in connection with the fact that but very few persons have ever seen one, together with its immense size and fierce look, will induce a large attendance under the canvas. Next was the wagon bearing the lioness and litter of cubs.

This family is the admiration of all those who have ever witnessed them. After them was a Royal yak, the first and only specimen of this curiously formed bovine ever seen in this country. It was received some time last summer from Tibet, China.

Then came the wagons bearing the following animals:

Bengal tigers, white bears, Brazilian jaguars, South American guanoes, gazelles, panthers, camels, buffaloes, emues, grizzly bears, black wolves, black bears, eagles, zebu or sacred ox, Alpine goat, black-maned lions, Senegal leopards, laughing hyenas, lammas, ostriches, dromedaries, bisons, Maskin swine, axis deer, spotted hyenas, peccaries, tapers, monkeys, quagga, zebras, apes, baboons, volkeys, and a full aviary of exotic birds.

The establishment has located on the lot corner of East and Walnut streets, and exhibitions will be given afternoons and evenings for the remainder of the week.

The menagerie and circus constitute distinct entertainments, and one admission price is all that is required to both exhibitions. We predict an immense business for this magnificent establishment during its brief sojourn in our city, and commend it to everybody.

Desperate Assault.

Jacob Ohr keeps a green grocery and meat store on the south side of Green street, between Preston and Jackson streets, and in the third story of the house rooms Mr. John Oakley, a manufacturer of washing-blue. About eight o'clock last night Ohr, seized from his meat block a mallet or an iron claw, rushed up to Oakley's room, found him sitting at the front window, and without warning, attacked him with the claw, dealing him three severe blows upon the forehead, and one upon the left shoulder. One of the blows on the head cut pretty deep, severing a branch of the temporal artery or the artery itself, and bled profusely, as the floor gave signs last night, in a pool of blood. He then dragged Oakley down the steps, spattering the blood from top to bottom. Drs. Laville, Keller, Gilpin and Kern being speedily on the spot, the bleeding was stopped and the unfortunate man conveyed, insensible, to the city hospital. This morning he is considerably better, being able to converse. He states that this is the second assault Ohr has made on him; that he is forty-six years old; has been in the city since 1859; is a widower with no children, and came to this city from New York. The surgeons at the hospital hope to have him able to go about in a few days. Ohr gives as the reason of his murderous assault that Oakley is in the habit of spitting out of his window down upon the sidewalk while he and his family are out enjoying the evening air.

Counterfeiter.

Capt. J. P. Roberts, Deputy United States Marshal for Laurel county, arrived yesterday with one Jas. Dempsey, charged with dealing in counterfeit money. Dempsey was found drunk on the streets in London, and on his person a lot of twenty-five cent fractional currency and silver dimes—all counterfeit. He was before Commissioner Ballard this morning, and in default of bail in the sum of $1,500 was sent to jail to await his trial.

Louisville Opera House.

Mr. and Mrs. Albaugh appeared last night to a good house, producing "Satan in Paris." To-night they will appear in the dramatized version of Mrs. Southworth's Hidden Hand, highly sensational. Mrs. Albaugh taking the part of Capitola, which she renders with great excellence.

GRANT GUARDS IN A MUSS.

Excitement on the Levee.

As stated elsewhere, the Grant Guards left last evening for Madison. Before doing so, however, there came very near being a scene of terrible disturbance. Beside the Guards, there were nearly two hundred other darkies on the excursion, and they had chartered a couple of barges to be taken to Madison by the tow-boat Falls City. The fact drew together on the levee, from Third to Fourth and on Water street, a large crowd of spectators, mostly colored men, women and children.

About 6 o'clock some of the white boys living along the wharf began the disturbance by throwing stones at some of the negro boys, but this passed off. Afterwards they approached the barges and commenced throwing at the people in them. No sooner was this attack made, by a parcel of boys who ought to be in the house of refuge, than the Grant Guards discharged loaded muskets into the crowd, some six or more shots being fired. The guns were not charged with blank, but with ball cartridges—at least, one of them was for the ball struck a house on Water street. Fortunately, no one was hurt, but it was the merest chance that no one was killed. The boys ran, and the Falls City left port immediately, or there would no doubt have been a mob. The boys were doubling the peace, but that was no excuse, whatever, for the use of musketry upon them, nor in the crowd, and examples should be made by properly punishing both parties.

A Plea for Pardon.

At a meeting of the Medical Association for the Washington City district yesterday resolutions were adopted requesting Gov. Geary to suspend the execution of the sentence of Dr. Paul Schaeppel, convicted of the murder of Miss Stinneke, on the ground that the chemical evidence was insufficient, and failed to prove satisfactorily the presence of hydrocyanic acid or any other poison in the stomach of the deceased.

One Thousand Dollars.

The seven illicit distillers brought to the city by Officer Harrington, were before Commissioner Ballard this forenoon, and on examination were held to bail in $1,000 each to answer at the next term of the United States Court.

The Administration's Panic Faith.

The recent order of General Sherman, as "General," countersigned by General Sherman as "Secretary of War," extending the time of holding the elections in Texas from one day to four, is looked upon here as a ready means of voting the negroes as often as Radical exigencies may require. The alteration was recommended by General Reynolds, who is known to be very anxious to carry out General Grant's promise to General Clark—namely, to aid the Davis men in every way "legitimately" in the "power" of the administration.

Big Whisky Seizure.

There was a report last night, said to be authentic, that two thousand barrels of whisky, belonging to S. N. Fowler, had been seized upon the charge of violating the internal revenue law.—Cincinnati Commercial, to-day.

LOUISVILLE CITY COURT.

HON. E. S. CRAIG, JUDGE.

WEDNESDAY, September 22.

"They say this town is full of cozenage; as nimble jugglers that deceive the eye; dark working sorcerers that change the mind; soul-killing witches that charm the body; disguised cheaters, prating mountebanks, and many such like liberties of sin," but if such is the case let them beware of the august tribunal that holds its levees every morning at the City Court.

The ruin of some men dates from some vacant hour, and if John Leary and John Henry had only borne this in mind they would not have appeared before his Honor this morning charged as suspected felons. This case was continued, the parties being held in one hundred dollars bond.

"Occupation is said to be the armor of the soul," but A. R. McDonald unfortunately left his armor off, and thus became an easy prey to his old enemy, "benzene." It left him in a sad plight, and for his carelessness he was called upon to answer to the charge of drunk and disorderly conduct, and fined three dollars.

The devil is sometimes represented as fishing for man, and baiting his hook with what tickles their fancies most. A little of the "body demoralizer" was on his hook this morning, and he was fast. One of the boys, who for being so easily tempted was fined $3 and held in $200 bonds for sixty days.

In tripped Julia Wentz, charged with disorderly conduct. Julia made a strong appeal to "His Honor," but the Judge seems to know woman nature a "little too well," and she was fined three dollars and gave a bond of one hundred dollars for thirty days. With smiling countenance she departed.

Ellen Kinnman now made her appearance, charged with drunk and disorderly conduct. Her honor, after carefully considering the merits of the case, discharged Ellen, who thereupon with profound courtesy, spoke thusly:

Kind Judge,
You seem to know what woman is;
You've got a right understanding
Her wants at all your understand.
Her wants at all your understand.

That "same old peace warrant" was here announced. The answers to the questions of counsel and Judge were as direct as usual in such cases, being about as follows: Molly said that Bridget said, that Mike said, that Pat told him that he saw a man, that see a boy, who see Jimmy, as Jane was going into the house, as John came out, run around a corner of the house where Charles sat at the window, and there he lost sight of him. The evidence was conclusive, the parties were held in $100 to keep the peace for three months.

A motion was here made that the court adjourn to see the show pass, it being a time-honored custom. His Honor remarked that the custom was an honored one, but that the fact that the river in front of the court room was so full of snags as to prevent the elephant from participating in the "show-seeing" had better be dispensed with.

Ben. Friel was next called in, and sagely remarked that

"soon, yielding minds to water glide away," but he'd have none of it. The same old junk, for which Ben. had to shell out $100, his bond for $100 for thirty days.

John Brogan, drunkenness and disorderly conduct; fined $3.

Pat Logan, drunkenness and disorderly conduct; fined $3.

Ed. Fogarty, drunkenness and disorderly conduct; fined $3.

J. L. Logan, drunkenness; $3 fine and $100 for 30 days.

Hiram McMichael, drunk and disorderly conduct; fined $5 and $200 for sixty days.

Jacob Dougherty, rape; sent to Lincoln county for trial.

Peter Ferguson, Silas Johnson and Buck Hlyson, cutting Wm. Harris with intent to kill; held in $1 each and case continued.

FIRE AND LOSS OF LIFE.

Three Children Perish, Abandoned by Their Father and Mother.

From the Cincinnati Gazette, Sept. 22.
A fire occurred at 123 Central avenue, Peter Montag and his wife were rescued from the burning building, but their three children perished. After the fire had been entirely extinguished, the firemen went to work in the ruins to look for the victims. At midnight they got out the eldest—Martin Montag, seven years old, who had been to school yesterday. His body was charred, the black trunk disfigured, the left arm gone from the elbow, and both feet burned off below the knees.

A few moments later they recovered the body of George Montag, five years old, the head nearly consumed, the extremities of all the limbs gone, and scarcely anything but a charred trunk left. A quarter of an hour later, firemen caught sight of a blackened mass—all that was left of the third and youngest, an infant not quite two years old. The body was removed before it could be gotten out. A messenger was again sent in search of the drunken father, and the toil and trouble-worn drudging mother, who were, no one knew where, searching for the children. The three little victims had gone to bed together. Their bodies were found some distance apart.

A DEVOTED MOTHER.

She Leaps into a Cistern and Saves her Baby.

Mrs. Kate Robinson lives six miles from Indianapolis, Ind. She last week her husband, leaving her and her child at home. The child, which is only three years old, while playing near the cistern fell in. The mother heard the scream and splash of the child as it fell, and rushing to the brink of the well, she saw the boy in the water. She ran to the barn for a ladder, but the ladder was misplaced, and rushing back, the fond mother, with a heroic worth of mention, plunged into the well, determined to save her child or die in the attempt. When she reached the water nothing could be seen of the child, but with great courage and persistence, she dived to the bottom of the cistern three times, and at last succeeded in bringing up her babe in a senseless condition. A lady passing by, and hearing the mother's screams hastened to the well, and succeeded by reaching down in taking the almost lifeless child from the arms of his frantic mother. Restorations were applied and the child was resuscitated by the lady who took it out. A farmer living about a half mile distant hearing Mrs. Robinson's screams hastened to the spot and delivered the heroic mother from her perilous position.

The Cincinnati Races—Two Great Races—Herzog and Crossland Win.

The races over the Buckeye Course yesterday drew a great crowd. The Gazette gives this account of the sweepstakes won by Herzog. The first two heats are the best consecutive heats ever made in America:

In the pool selling the night before, Herzog was the favorite at odds of two and three to one, Pompey Payne and Alta Vela contending closely for the second choice.

First Heat—The horses got off at the second trial, Versailles in the lead, Pompey Payne second, Herzog third, and Kilgour and Alta Vela in the rear. In rounding the first curve Versailles led two and three lengths, Pompey Payne maintaining his place, while Herzog fell off slightly. Alta Vela and Kilgour still running together in the rear.

This position was maintained until they reached the back stretch, when Alta Vela made a push, passed to the second position, and crowded Versailles hard for the first place. The latter won the heat by about half a length; Alta Vela second, with Herzog close upon his heels; Pompey Payne a good fourth, and Kilgour bringing up the rear. Time—1:43.

Second Heat—Versailles magnificent running had so elated his backers, and so astounded the friends of Herzog, that the two horses brought about $100 each in the pool selling. The friends of Pompey Payne had enough confidence in his bottom to risk $35 upon his chances, while Alta Vela was worth only $10, and Kilgour nothing worth mentioning.

The tap of the drum at the second trial sent the horses spinning down the course again, Alta Vela impudently assuming the lead, Pompey Payne slipping into the second place, Herzog contending himself with the third position once more. Kilgour, occupying the fourth, and Versailles coming in at a fatal distance in the rear. The latter, indeed, was so far behind that the struggle was a hopeless one for him, blown as he was with his heavy work in the other heat, and his rider would have done well not to have attempted anything more than to save his distance. As the horses rounded the curve, Herzog began to show what stuff was in him, for he passed Pompey Payne with apparent ease, and put Alta Vela on her mettle to reach the quarter pole before him. As they passed the quarter the little Ethiopian boy beside Herzog and who rode him with admirable judgment, let him have his head a little, and he gradually pushed his nose alongside that of Alta Vela. The latter struggled gallantly, and they ran neck and neck to the half mile pole; Pompey Payne third, Kilgour fourth, and poor Versailles still laboring in the rear.

As they sped around the lower curve, Herzog gathered himself up a little, and had the satisfaction of whisking his triumphant tail in the sorrowful face of the jaded filly, who gave up the heat from that moment, and fell to the rear of the troop. During the time Versailles, still plucky, remained upon a brush for the purse, and crawled slowly past Kilgour, until he collared Pompey Payne. Pompey struggled desperately to obtain the second place, but Versailles, by a tremendous effort, passed him. Herzog sailed in easily three or four lengths ahead of his little rival, showing all his ivory as he looked around in triumph upon his discomfited rivals. Versailles came next, with not a hair of his nose to spare, Pompey third, Kilgour fourth, and Alta Vela last. Time—1:44.

Third Heat—Herzog now sold against the field at odds of nearly four to one. Pompey Payne rushed to the front at the tap of the drum, closely followed by Herzog, Kilgour third, Versailles fourth, and Alta Vela last. These positions were maintained until they had passed the first quarter, when Herzog crept up by the side of Pompey, and passed him. Before they reached the half-mile pole, Pompey holding the second, and the positions of the others remaining unchanged. As they passed the third quarter, and turned their faces toward home, Pompey gave up the unequal contest and retired to the rear, giving Alta Vela the fourth position. Versailles led his eyes on the pursuer, and was his if he could only stick his nose in front of Herzog, and made a burst, throwing Kilgour behind him and taking his place next the favorite. The latter's rider, however, kept a sharp lookout to the rear, and seeing what Versailles was about, shook a little more speed out of his legs, and came in a clear length ahead, with plenty of reserve force left. Versailles was second, Kilgour third, Alta Vela fourth, and Pompey Payne last. Time, 2:46.

This ended the race, and Herzog again ran off with the stakes. His running was not equal to the exhibition which he gave us last spring, but it was evident that his capabilities were not brought out. Some of the knowing ones hint that he is saving himself for the race next Saturday, and that he will then show us something which will astonish us.

Tribe and Express.

Apologies of a rough remark by the New York Tribune on something said by its neighbor the Express, the following anecdote is revived:

(Old White Hat, a countryman, seated beside a surly passenger in a rail car, the latter reading the Tribune.)

White Hat—"Going far, stranger?"

Passenger—"No."

White Hat (after a pause)—"Hot day."

No response from the passenger.

White Hat—"What paper ye reading?"

Passenger—"Tribune."

DAILY EXPRESS.

LOUISVILLE.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

WASHINGTON.

Spanish Opposition to American Mediation in Cuba.

Constitutionality of the Cotton Tax to be Tested.

Death of Revolutions in Mexico.

Organized Raid on Kentucky Officeholders.

Postmaster Speed and Assessors Needham and Spencer on the Black List.

CUBA.

WASHINGTON, September 21.—Dispatches have been received by mail from Minister Siskies, but the only information that the Department will let out regarding them is that nothing definite has resulted from the tender of mediation to Spain on Cuban matters. The Spanish newspapers received at the Department all oppose the proposed mediation.

TREASURY REMOVALS.

Among the rumors prevailing in Treasury quarters to-day was one that the Secretary intended next week to buy bonds and pay gold for them instead of selling gold for currency and then buying bonds for currency.

THE COTTON TAX.

The Supreme Court meets here in ten days. One of the most important cases to be brought before it for decision at this time is the question of the constitutionality of the latest act on cotton duties. There are several millions of claims to be preferred against the Government for the refunding of the amount collected, provided the decision is adverse to the Government.

PARAGUAY.

Secretary Fish discredits the report that the war in Paraguay is at an end. He believes that Lopez will again rally his scattered forces and continue the struggle.

MEXICO.

Dispatches just received here from Mexico report quiet in all the States. Everything is favorable to a return of prosperity. Senator Matta, formerly Mexican Minister to this Government, is endeavoring to become the leader of the opposition. President Juarez will not be a candidate for re-election.

VIRGINIA.

A prominent Richmond Radical who arrived here denounces the New York Herald's report that an attempt would be made to present a session of the Virginia Legislature. He says the Legislature will not do much and adopt the fifteenth amendment by an almost unanimous vote. His impression is the Conservatives will postpone an election of Senators until after Congress shall have admitted the State.

KENTUCKY OFFICIALS.

The Republicans in Kentucky known as the extreme wing have decided to make, through their representatives here, a raid on the Kentucky officeholders. They intend to furnish a list to the President of such as are not up to the advanced position of Radicalism, and demand their removal. They say that nearly all of the officeholders refuse to endorse the 15th amendment, and utterly repudiate the 15th amendment, while those who have been in office six years must go anyway, no matter how radical they are. Assessors from the President, they declare, warrant them in hoping for complete success. Postmaster Speed, of Louisville, Assessor Needham, of the same city, and Assessor Spencer, of the Fourth Kentucky District, are on their list already for removal.

SIBERIA.

Return of the Eclipse Party—The Exhibition a Failure.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 21.—The United States steamer Mohican returned from Siberia to-night, with Professors Hall and Rogers, of the United States Naval Observatory, at Washington, who went north to observe the eclipse. The exhibition was a decided failure. The steamer arrived at Plover Bay July 30th, and anchored in Emma harbor. The astronomical party erected an observatory on Wapcom Spit, at which Prof. Rogers took his station, while Prof. Hall proceeded to landhead, the place selected by the observatory. There was favorable light the hour before contact, when dense clouds obscured the sun, lasting half an hour after egress, and then cleared off as before.

SYRACUSE, Sept. 21.—Nearly all the delegates to the Democratic State Convention are here. The platform is indicated. Gen. Slocum is mentioned for temporary chairman and Lieut. Gov. Beach for permanent President.

The platform will be rather conservative. It will not go as far as the Ohio Democratic platform, nor will it be a copy of the Massachusetts Democratic platform. There will be a demand for the restoration of the Southern States, general amnesty, a fulfillment of obligations of contracts with regard to Government bonds, opposition to the proposed 15th amendment, and opposition to the amended State Constitution, excepting the article concerning the jury. There is a general good feeling among the delegates.

GEN. SISKIES AS A DIPLOMAT.

LONDON, Sept. 21.—The Paris correspondent of The Times writes as follows: "The note of the American Minister to the Spanish Government in regard to Cuba varies both in its tone and conclusion from the diplomatic communications between the Spanish Minister at Washington and the Government of the United States. The diplomatic experience of General Siskies is limited, and probably insufficient for him to rightly estimate the value and effect of his words. Doubtless he is much surprised at the excitement they have created, and it will be difficult for his Government to approve of them. No pretext exists for recognizing the Cuban insurgents, which does not hold a single tone or position, and owes its prolongation to the action of the climate on its opponents and the facilities afforded to the insurgents in a thinly populated country. The appointment of General Siskies as Minister to Spain was greatly criticized, and has not been sanctioned by the Senate. That body will do itself credit by refusing to confirm the appointment of a man who has made so bad a first appearance in diplomacy."

A letter from Madrid to the Standard says Gen. Siskies in his note intimates that the Government at Washington might under force of public opinion be compelled to recognize the Cuban insurgents. He reminds the Spanish Government of the good faith which the United States has hitherto observed, its respect for international law and its unwillingness to embarrass Spain. Altogether the note is not of an alarming nature, but the reference of the Government to the people to remain in ignorance of its contents justifies the violent comments which have appeared in the Spanish papers for the past few days.

THE CHINA TRADE.

The Pall Mall Gazette reviews the idea of a Chinese policy put forth by Mr. Browne, late American Minister to China. It says the sum of his argument is the opening of new markets to Christian traders. In point of fact there is nothing to show that the difficulties between foreigners and the Chinese are merely questions of interpretation. A truer account would be that the former forced the Chinese to grant privileges which the latter did not wish to grant, and that the extension of such privileges is a mistake. If intercourse with China is no better than a series of little wars, we must be content to measure the right of trade with China by her willingness to trade with us.

THE ECUMENICAL COUNCIL.

The Pope has sent a communication to Cardinal Manning in reference to the proposal of Dr. Cummings to appear at the Ecumenical Council. The Pope refers Dr. Cummings to the terms of the letter of administration addressed to Protestants, and says he will find it is an invitation not to a discussion, but only to profit by the opportunity to return to the church. The Pope says, in conclusion, that there is no room at the council for the defense of errors which have already been condemned.

The Times in commenting on the above remarks, says that the Pope's attitude is a decided failure. The Pope must have acquainted himself with the purport of Dr. Cummings' letter through the newspapers and replied before the receipt. Dr. Cummings is to be congratulated on the authoritative reply elicited. The Pope speaks plainly. If the doctor had considered the claims of the Catholic Church, which are not in accordance with the principles of Christianity.
